

NEWS

NEWS OPINION NATIONAL AFFAIRS BUSINESS TECHNOLOGY HIGHER ED MEDIA SPORT ARTS LIFE TRAVEL VIDEO

BREAKING NEWS | THE NATION | THE WORLD | FEATURES | IN-DEPTH | HEALTH & SCIENCE | INVESTIGATIONS | MAGAZINES | EVENTS | WEATHER

From agencies and News Limited publications:

NATIONAL BREAKING NEWS

Cancer survivor pregnant in Aussie first

AAP February 11, 2013 12:14PM

A BREAST cancer survivor who lost her fertility through chemotherapy is pregnant thanks to an Australian first procedure that reimplanted cryogenically frozen ovarian tissue.

The woman, who was 37 when diagnosed with breast cancer, opted to undergo the cryopreservation procedure in 2005 before starting a type of chemotherapy that would severely reduce her chances of falling pregnant.

The woman's ovarian tissue was removed and frozen before her cancer treatment, according to a report published in the Medical Journal of Australia on Monday.

Seven years later, the 43-year-old - who was menopausal but cancer-free - had the preserved tissue reimplanted in her ovaries and began ovulating a few months later.

She underwent in-vitro fertilisation (IVF) treatment and is now in her second trimester of pregnancy.

The pregnancy is one of only 20 of its kind in the world, and only the second in a woman successfully treated for breast cancer, international medical director at Monash IVF, Professor Gabor Kovacs says.

DIGITAL PASS
$1 for the first 28 days.
Learn More

Prof Kovacs says the procedure offers new hope to women whose fertility may be threatened by cancer treatment.

"It's a simple technique and relatively cheap, as it only requires an operative laparoscopy and a few hours of a laboratory scientist's time," he told AAP.

Prof Kovacs said gynaecologists across Australia could also be trained to perform the procedure.

He said the process was also good news for women who lose their ovary functions because of operations related to diseases such as endometriosis - a condition linked to infertility.

However he warned against using the process for social preservation.

"It's an option for women who are going to lose their fertility, (but) I wouldn't advocate it being used by women who would like to have children later in life," he said.

Ads By Google

- $1 Australia Domain Name
Why pay more? Australia #1 Domain Registrar - Instant Registration www.CrazyDomains.com.au
- Vampire Weekend New Album
One of the biggest albums of the year. Buy now on iTunes. www.apple.com/au/vampireweekend
- Top 10 Credit Cards (AUS)
0% Balance Transfer + No Fee Cards. Compare Credit Cards & Apply Online www.CreditCard.com.au

YOU MIGHT LIKE

Speechless, Nine pulls The Voice
Media

Rare, German-tuned Bugatti goes on sale
Business

Student's pressure-cooker rice dish sparks panic
News

FROM AROUND THE WEB

Dear grammar police...
Kidspot

Are Solar Panels Worth the Cost?
hipages.com.au

Have some charities gone too far?
CHOICE

MORE FROM THE NATION

Uni cancels Islamic 'inter-faith' event

RACHEL BAXENDALE
MELBOURNE University has cancelled an Islamic group's lecture theatre booking for an "inter-faith" event which was to be held this weekend.

- I was mistaken about More Joyous: Johns
- Two charged with race doping
- Search continues for missing diver
- Ex-priest's health delays child-sex case

TODAY'S HEADLINES

Hit to foreign aid inevitable: Carr

JOE KELLY
AID groups and the Coalition have condemned Labor's decision to again delay its foreign aid spending target and divert more money towards asylum-seekers.

- Warning on 2015 Gallipoli tickets
- Groves trial set to get personal
- Gatsby goes great with strong debut
- Kidnap suspect's brothers 'unaware'

OPINION | 1 of 6

MUMBLE

'The economy is like a schlocky, never-ending B-grade horror movie for this government'

ADVERTISEMENT

LATEST NEWS VIDEO

PLAY

0:00 / 0:00

WATCH MORE VIDEO

Sponsored Links

- Defence Housing Australia
Want 12 years of guaranteed rent? Invest with DHA.
- Breaking news video!
Watch the latest Local and National breaking news
- Celebrity news and video!
Up to the minute celebrity gossip, photos & celebrity videos

MORE FROM THE NATION

Uni cancels Islamic 'inter-faith' event

RACHEL BAXENDALE
MELBOURNE University has cancelled an Islamic group's lecture theatre booking for an "inter-faith" event which was to be held this weekend.

- I was mistaken about More Joyous: Johns
- Two charged with race doping
- Search continues for missing diver
- Ex-priest's health delays child-sex case

TODAY'S HEADLINES

Hit to foreign aid inevitable: Carr

JOE KELLY
AID groups and the Coalition have condemned Labor's decision to again delay its foreign aid spending target and divert more money towards asylum-seekers.

- Warning on 2015 Gallipoli tickets
- Groves trial set to get personal
- Gatsby goes great with strong debut
- Kidnap suspect's brothers 'unaware'

FEATURE

Daring to dream in PNG

ROWAN CALLICK, ASIA-PACIFIC EDITOR
JULIA Gillard has encountered a land of plenty, and of problems.

ADVERTISEMENT

NEWS OPINION NATIONAL AFFAIRS BUSINESS AUSTRALIAN IT HIGHER EDUCATION MEDIA SPORT ARTS

MOBILE RSS FEEDS NEWSLETTERS SEND STORIES SUBSCRIBE

SEARCH FOR:

RESOURCES
Sitemap
Photo sales
News archive
Reader Offers
RSS Feeds
E-newspaper edition

ADVERTISING
Advertise with Us

POLICIES
Privacy
Terms

COMPANY INFORMATION
About Us
Contact Us
Job Opportunities
Code of conduct
Events

DIGITAL PASS $1 for the first 28 days* then $2.95 per week.
Learn More

*Conditions Apply

Terms Privacy Accessibility Mobile site Help Feedback Standards of practice